

Special points of interest:

- Briefly highlight your point of interest here.
- Briefly highlight your point of interest here.
- Briefly highlight your point of interest here.
- Briefly highlight your point of interest here.

Inside this issue:

Inside Story 2

Inside Story 2

Inside Story 2

Inside Story 3

Inside Story 4

Inside Story 5

Inside Story 6

AIIT

American Institute of Integrated Thought (AIIT) is an independent re-search initiative, based on 'Integrated Thought' towards achieving holistic development.

Exploring the interplay between Signs & Technology, Science & Religion, with an integrated focus grounded in Revelation. Engaging human potential through divine guidance towards a synergy of ethical values and intellectual illumination.

AIIT Focus Areas

AIIT Focus Areas

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special ar-

“To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Integrated Education: Ethics, morality, and social responsibility-based curriculum development

Truth Matters: Promoting Truth, Refuting Falsehood

Emerging Technologies: Reconciling the great divide between Science & Signs, Reason & Revelation

Youth Empowerment: Developing STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Allah-Awareness, Math) educated visionaries

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images

Premise

Research Skill Deficiency: In the contemporary world, identifying with a prevailing theory or belief is prioritized over solid grounding in foundational research skills in our education. This is a major factor to the dogmatic zeitgeist of today.

Technology Misuse: Emerging technologies have changed the way we do things. Ethical and responsible use of appropriate technology is vital for global harmony and scientific discovery.

Lack of Integration: The current discrepancy in our education leads to the segregation of reason from revelation, man from his own essence and needs. What is left is man isolated with his own anxieties and impulses, unequipped with the necessary skillset to navigate through life.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new

“To catch the reader’s attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you’re trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the

BUSINESS NAME

Primary Business Address
Address Line 2
Address Line 3
Address Line 4

Phone: 555-555-5555

Fax: 555-555-5555

Email: someone@example.com

We're on the Web!
example.com

Organization

Business Tagline or Motto

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those